PLUME 12 CHANDELIER

TONY DUQUETTE COLLECTION

The bouquet of feathers adorning the Plume chandelier call to mind the Rue de la Faisanderie in the 16th arrondissement of Paris, where a pheasant house once stood on the grounds of the Chateau de la Muette and where Tony Duquette decorated the home of his patron, Paul Louis Weiller, the French philanthropist and collector of historic houses. The feathers in this twelve arm solid brass chandelier are gathered in a central cluster cinched with a rope-detailed cuff. The twelve branches each hold a candelabra sitting in foliate detailed cups, surrounded by feathers and sprays with polished Lucite balls.
